Dear Bob & Pauline,

At last we have had a break in our below 30°, three and a half weeks of very cold winter weather. Big balls of snow the size of the bottom of a snowman are piled along the front of my property and when Reggy came along with her little front end scoop & loader lifted big slabs of ice, snow & sleet & dumped them on top in front of the house it is quite a sight. It's going to take a lot of melting to get rid of this.

I certainly enjoyed Annie's stay with me and Aaron's stop bys. How blessed I am to have them. Guess Annie has told you about the diary "Lucy" kept to let us know how our ancestors lived between 1849 and 1888. It was so fascinating to read it together some cozy evening while she was here.

Now to yours "do you remember"?

① Yes, Dad had a little black comb only about three inches long with teeth on both sides making it about three inches wide. The teeth were very fine & I use to sit on his lap & comb his hair. I thought those little waves were really pretty.

② So Pauline found the old pictures in Farmer on the Web. Pauline, can you tell me where you found them? I have not seen them & wonder who put them on.

(3) The garden back beyond the store & house was probably a good half acre & just beyond the little old dilapidated fence was "Pats Pond"; where we went skating in the winter. I don't have any recollection of why it was called "Pats Pond."
Mother had her garden back there. She planted about a third of the area. The part where the old ice house set had a lot of sawdust in it so that's where she planted potatoes. The celery row was special & so was the sweet potato row; built up & trenched in the middle & that's where the little plants were put so the dirt could be filled in around them as they grew. In the fall she wrapped the celery in newspaper and stored them under the back counter toward the back door. It was still green when she did this. It would gradually bleach & we usually had celery at least until Thanksgiving. Vegetables in the ground made it a good place for rabbits & good hunting.

(4) Uncle Wallace always played his tuba when ever & where ever he could. That town band was pretty good. It wasn't much help. When they'd get to playing like "Stars & Stripes Forever," I'd loose my place & couldn't get started again. The building was called The Town House.

(5) The old band wagon did come in handy more than once during the year. It went to the cemetery on memorial day as well as the social. It always had a piano or old organ on it to provide some music.

(6) It wouldn't have been Halloween if they didn't do something at the school house. Wonder if Al helped with this?

DEFIANCE EMERGES FROM WINTER STORM THAT ISOLATED CITY FROM OUTSIDE WORLD

Somebody aptly remarked this morning that the Kaiser ran his over the central, southern and western portion of the United States Saturday and Sunday.

Defiance and the Maumee Valley is emerging today from the worst winter storm in the history of the city and as details slowly come in over the wires Defiance people are brought to the realization that they were lucky. Reports of death from freezing, lack of coal, and other snowbound news comes from all over the country.

The weather report for the next twenty-four hours is "snow tonight and Tuesday. Warmer tonight. The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad prepaired a wire to the effect that another blizzard was headed toward Defiance and that the temperature would drop to twenty degrees below zero. It was said to center over Chicago. The Government report, however, that came in at nine o'clock this morning is for snow and warmer."

The winter storm that isolated Defiance from the world for two days was general throughout the country. Railroad traffic was tied up everywhere.

Local railroads made heroic efforts to keep open but were unable to do so. The B. & O. succeeded in getting two or three trains through. Passenger trains are now running on the road.

The Wabash was tied up for two days but this morning a giant snowplow from Ft. Wayne and another from Toledo broke the way through and passenger train traffic has been resumed.

One of the biggest drifts was in the cut through the North Side HIll. There was a drift said to be fifteen feet high near Antwerp.

The Ohio Electric was put out of business but is resuming traffic.

There were some record snow drifts in random parts of the city. One of the biggest was near Ottawa Ave. in East Defiance. It is said to be over ten feet in depth.

NEW YORK: Tropical rain storm with high winds and lightning struck city instead of heavy snow predicted by weather bureau. Temperature rose rapidly from freezing to spring like weather. Cellars and basements flooded, some subway trains delayed by water. Weather Bureau says return to winter weather will come rapidly.

Somebody aptly remarked this morning that the Kaiser ran his U-boats over the central, southern and eastern portion sof the United States Saturday and Sunday.

Defiance and the Maumee Valley is emerging today from the worst winter storm in the history of the city and as details slowly come in over the wires Defiance people are brought to a realization that they were lucky. Reports of death from freezing, lack of coal, and other snowbound news comes from all over the country.

The weather report for the next twenty four hours is "Snow tonight and Tuesday. Warmer tonight." The Baltimore & Ohio railroad yesterday received a wire to the effect that another blizzard was headed toward Defiance and that the temperature would drop to twenty degrees below zero. It was said to center over Chicago. The government report, however, that came in at nine o'clock this morning is for "fair and warmer."

The winter storm that isolated Defiance from the world for two days was general throughout the country. Railroad traffic was tied up everywhere.

Local railroads made heroic efforts to keep open but were unable to do so. The B. & O. succeeded in getting two or three trains through. Passenger trains are now running on the road.

bitten. Two women became unconscious from the cold and one man was frozen to death.

Columbus, with 13 degrees below, experienced the coldest day since February 13, 1899.

Dayton suffered in a temperature of 16 below and one man was frozen to death.

Mansfield reported one death due to the cold, Cyrus Y. Wheeler, shop foreman, succumbing to the effects of exposure.

Greenfield reported the death of Charles Speigle, who was found frozen in a road near the city.

Springfield was hard hit by the blizzard. Three interurban cars stuck in snowdrifts near the city are stormbound.

Troops In France Well Supplied—Wadsworth Asserts Secretary's Statement Is Not an Accurate Description of Situation.

Washington, Jan. 12.—Secretary Baker's examination before the senate military committee was warmed up by a rapid cross-fire of questions by senators of both parties, who did not agree with the generally favorable view of war preparations depicted by Mr. Baker's statements.

The senators declared his declamation that war supplies were adequate would mislead the country. Senator Weeks declared the country "should not be lulled to sleep by a general statement of facts that don't exist."

Men in Fighting Line Supplied.

Mr. Baker explained that he meant to convey only the impression that all the men ready for the fighting line were adequately equipped.

Senators Wadsworth and Weeks, Republicans, and Senators Chamberlain and Hitchcock, Democrats, took the lead in cross-examining the secretary and at times handled him without gloves.

Returning to the question of purchases by the supplies committee of the council of national defense, Secretary Baker said:

"The process is being stopped, and I think it is stopped now."

"What becomes of the committee?" asked Senator McKellar.

"It will disappear," Mr. Baker replied, adding that Vice Chairman Eisenman will be commissioned or placed on a salary with the reorganized quartermaster general's office.

Senator Objects to Eisenman.

"I want to protest against employment of Mr. Eisenman because of developments in this committee regarding Mr. Eisenman and Mr. Kaplan," said the senator.

"No comprehensive answer can be given to that," Mr. Baker replied, adding that he would give detailed forecasts.

Mr. Baker denied knowledge that any considerable number of contractors were refusing to execute contracts because of the new labor standards.

37 BELOW ZERO ON JANUARY 25, 1884

Defiance citizens smash the cold weather records Saturday when the thermometer went down to 32 below zero.

Now comes Dave Garman of Defiance township and says that in looking through a time book which was kept by his father it records that on Jan. 25, 1884 the thermometer registered 37 below zero.

Mr. Garman's father and H. S. Van Vorst's mother-in-law had the [illegible] that [illegible] [illegible] were ready for the fighting they were adequately equipped.

Senators Wadsworth and Weeks, Republicans, and Senators Chamberlain and Hitchcock, Democrats, took the lead in cross-examining the secretary and at times handled him without gloves.

Returning to the question of purchases by the supplies committee of the council of national defense, Secretary Baker said:

"The process is being stopped, and I think it is stopped now."

"What becomes of the committee?" asked Senator McKellar.

"It will disappear," Mr. Baker replied, adding that Vice Chairman Eisenman will be commissioned or placed on a salary with the reorganized quartermaster general's office.

Senator Objects to Eisenman.

"I want to protest against employment of Mr. Eisenman because of developments in this committee regarding Mr. Eisenman and Mr. Kaplan," said the senator.

"No comprehensive answer can be given to that," Mr. Baker replied, adding that he would give detailed forecasts.

Mr. Baker denied knowledge that any considerable number of contractors were refusing to execute contracts because of the new labor standards.

Turning to artillery, Senator Wadsworth assailed the ordnance bureau for not continuing manufacture of French 240-millimeter (about 9½ inches) guns, instead of proceeding with manufacture of American 9.5 guns, none of which have been delivered and whose ammunition is not interchangeable with the French.

Secretary Baker said he thought, but was not sure, that the department was making the French type and promised to give further information.

Senator Pounds the Table.

"There has been no explanation yet given the committee," said Senator Wadsworth, pounding the table with his fist.

Senator Wadsworth asked whether, in view of the shortage of artillery and machine guns, the secretary's statement that there were sufficient supplies substantially for rush needs was correct.

"Yes, perfectly, as I understand it," said Mr. Baker. "Our rush needs are satisfied."

Senator Chamberlain asked Baker how he could say so when cantonments were short rifles and machine guns and artillery.

"I mean that we have sufficient for the men actually engaged in fighting."

Wrong Impression to Country.

"Your statement that we have substantially enough gives a wrong impression to the country, when we have only enough for men actually in the fighting and not for those in training," Senator Wadsworth interjected.

"I agree with Senator Wadsworth," said Chairman Chamberlain, "that your statement gives a wrong impression to the country. It was not your purpose, but it is its effect."

"What I meant to say and what I want the country to understand," Mr. Baker replied earnestly, "is that all the troops in France will be adequately equipped with artillery and arms."

The statement leaves the impression that the situation is a rosy one and that we have all the artillery we need," said Senator Wadsworth. "I disagree. It is not an accurate description of the situation."

"I said 'initial needs' are filled," explained Mr. Baker.

Start Work on Guns Next Month.

"But you ought to define your statement; it gives the country the impression that every need in the camps is supplied," said Mr. Weeks.

Reverting to delays in machine gun deliveries, Senator Hitchcock declared many contracts for Lewis guns and Mr. Baker rejoined that large pro-

[illegible] months in Wyoming [illegible] practical [illegible] efforts have been made to secure facilities for the construction, for immediate relief. At the same time it is attempting to secure recognition from the United States for its government. He will be joined soon by a colleague.

NATION SHORT OF COAL

Garfield Issues Warning to Conserve Fuel.

Declares That Unless Rigid Economy Is Put Into Effect Severe Suffering Will Result.

Washington, Jan. 12.—With two months of severe cold weather ahead, the country faces a coal shortage of 28,000,000 tons, according to estimates announced by Fuel Administrator Garfield. At the same time he gave a solemn warning that unless universal and rigid economy is put into effect at once severe suffering will ensue.

To meet the critical situation, these definite steps will be taken:

1. Seize pockets of coal that are being held by manufacturers and others against a year's use.

2. Curtail the allotment of the supply to large industries, even including the great munitions works.

3. Distribute the available supply proportionately to the various parts of the country, accounting importance of work to be done for the prosecution of the war.

4. Compel nonessential industries to reduce manufacture, as already arranged with the paper board manufacturers. Nine classes have submitted plans to the administration.

5. Reduce the use of coal in theaters and other amusement places, including cabarets and late night restaurants.

Past Weeks News From Farmer-- Paid Honors at Golden Wedding

Mrs. Hodge S. Cunningham, correspondent Farmer Phone 4181

The death of our old friend, Roy Hayes, came as a saddening thought and the sympathy of all goes out to his widow, his two sons, one of whom is in the South Pacific, and the daughter still in England. All three graduated from Farmer high school. His sister, Mrs. Wallace Buda, also received news Monday that her second son, Charles, had been killed in Germany. Besides the parents, who reside on a farm near Bryan, he leaves two brothers and a sister at home, Bob, Ned and Anna. Funeral services for Mr. Bayes were held at the Union church here Wednesday.

The golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Ridenour was attended by about 50 people Sunday. Pleasant, Mich.; Charles Chrisman, Defiance; Mrs. Kate Chrisman, Elton; Mr. and Mrs. Will Buda, Edgerton; Mrs. Mary Smith, Williams Center, and James Chrisman, Melbern. Also many relatives and friends from Bryan and the local community. Somebody aptly remarked this morning that the Kaiser ran his - over the central, southern and western portions of the United States Saturday and Sunday.

Defiance and the Maumee Valley is emerging today from the worst winter storm in the history of the city and as details slowly come in over the wires Defiance people are brought to a realization that they were lucky. Reports of death from freezing, lack of coal and other snowbound news comes from all over the country.

The weather report for the next twenty-four hours is "snow tonight and Tuesday." Warmer tonight. The Baltimore and Ohio railroad yesterday received a wire to the effect that another blizzard was headed toward Defiance and that the temperature would drop to twenty degrees below zero. It was said to center over Chicago. The government report that came in at nine o'clock this morning is for "snow and warmer."

The winter storm that isolatedDefiance from the world for two days was general throughout the country. Railroad traffic was tied up everywhere. Local railroads made heroic efforts to keep open but were unable to do so. The B & O succeeded in getting two or three trains through. Passenger trains are now running on the road.

The Wabash was tied up for two days but this morning a giant snow plow from Ft. Wayne and another from Toledo broke the way through and passenger train traffic has been resumed.

One of the biggest drifts was in the cut through the North Side hill. There was a drift said to be fifteen feet high near Antwerp.

The Ohio Electric was put out of business but is said to be resuming traffic.

There were some record snow drifts in various parts of the cuty. One of the largest was near Ottawa Ave. in East Defiance. It is said to be over ten feet in depth.

BAYES

Mahala A., daughter of John and Nancy Partee, was born Sept. 1st, 1847, near Defiance, Ohio, and died Dec. 19, 1924, at her home in Farmer, aged 77 years, 3 months and 18 days.

In early life she united with the M. E. church at Rural Chapel in Tiffin township, and on her removal to Farmer township, she transferred her membership to the Dry Creek U. B. church, where she remained for 18 years.

She again united with the M. E. church, at Farmer, and was an active member as long as her health permitted.

She was united in marriage to William Bayes Oct. 1st, 1870, and leaves to cherish her memory a son Roy, a daughter Florence, four grandchildren, Hollie, Albert and Roena Bayes and Bobbie Buda, all of Farmer. a sister, Mrs. J. O. Wisler of Defiance, and a host of relatives and friends.

Funeral services were held at Farmer, Monday, Dec. 22nd, conducted by Rev. J. W. Lilly, assisted by Rev. Wilson of Ney. Burial at Farmer.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to express our sincere thanks to the friends who assisted us in every way during the sickness and death of our dear Mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bayes.
Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Buda.

19. Dec. 1924

At 9:15 Friday morning, December 19, Mrs. Mahala Bayes a long time resident of Farmer township, and a lifetime resident of Defiance county, passed away after a long illness, covering the greater part of seven years. Her husband, William Bayes died in the winter of 1918, during one of the worst snow storms of that stormy year, and his body had to be borne to its last resting place in sleds. A strang coincidence that her soul should finally take its departure in the storm of ice and sleet, nearly seven years later. At this time all service was cut off and the doctor had to be gone after as in the pre-phone days, also the undertaker. Mrs. Bayes was 78 years old last September, and leaves to mourn her loss, a son Roy and wife, a daughter Florence and husband who lived with her and cared for her, three grandsons, Hollis, Albert Bayes and Bobbie Buda, and one sister, Mrs. Clara Wisler of Defiance who was with her at the end, as she had been through many hard spells before. Mrs. Wisler is the last of the Partee family, into which they were born, over in Tiffin township, and the youngest member. The funeral service for Mrs. Bayes will probably be held in the Union church some time on Monday. Because of the storm and crippled phone service information which is really authentic has been hard to secure.

Apropos of the storm, Farmer town and township has been hit as hard as other localities this time, the yard and orchard of W. S. Yeagley, east of town, being practically covered with fallen branches, and all their fine fruit trees are destroyed so far as next year's crop is concerned and some of them forever. The maples in the front and side yard will never again be quite the things of beauty they have been for many years. Other places show ravage of the storm, but to a lesser degree, and poles and wires are down all around town. It was reported that the mile east of town was the only one between Bryan and Farmer, via Ney, which did not have poles down yesterday forenoon. If any one has been regretting the "good old times" let him rejoice in these lightless nights, and

NEWS

HICKSVILLE, OHIO WE

Mrs. Mary Dowden Taken By Death

Mrs. Mary Staup Dowden, aged 83, widow of George Dowden, who lived two miles east of Hicksville on State Route 18, died at 7:00 p. m., Sunday in Community Memorial Hospital, where she had been a medical patient for two days. She had been a semi-invalid since an accident ten years ago. On Dec. 13, 1961, she had fallen and fractured her hip.

Mrs. Dowden was born Nov. 7, 1878 in Washington Twp., Defiance Co., and was a daughter of Adam and Esther Crow Balser. When a young girl she moved with her family to near Pioneer, O. Later they returned to Defiance County where on August 16, 1896 she was united in marriage with Corby L. Staup. For a time following their marriage they lived in Mark Twp. Later they moved to Farmer where Mr. Staup passed away on April 10, 1942.

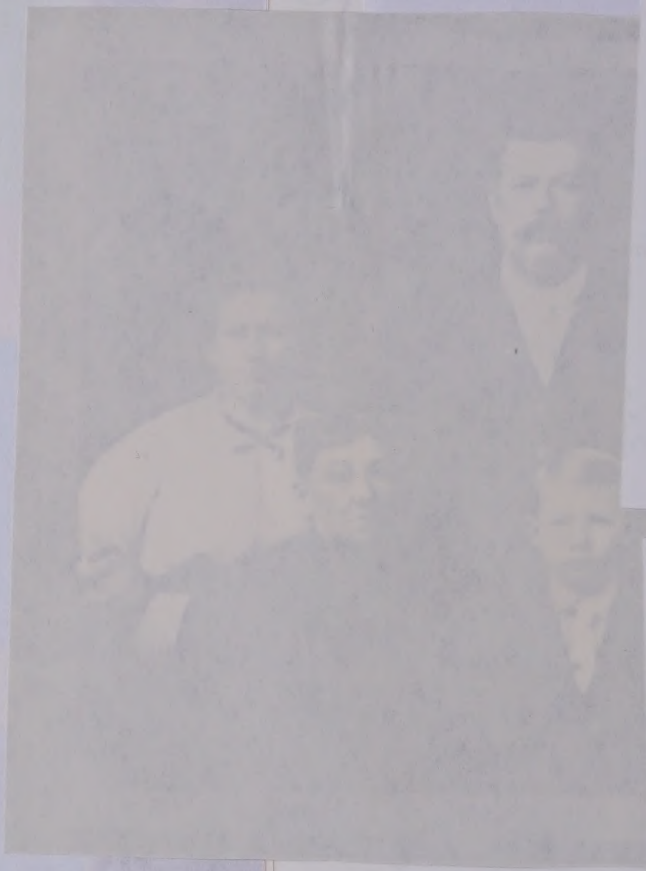
Following his death she continued to live in Farmer for some time. She had lived in the present home since March, 1943.

On April 27, 1947, she was united in marriage with George Dowden, who passed away Nov. 16, 1961.

She was a member of the Farmer Church of Christ, and an honorary life member of the Ladies Aid of the church.

Surviving her are a son, Leon (Dewey) Staup of Hicksville; two daughters, Mrs. Lelah Husted of Hicksville and Mrs. Inez Beerbower of Farmer; six grandchildren; twenty-six great-grandchildren; a brother George Balser of Hudson, Mich.; two sisters, Mrs. Rosa Hofmeister of Hicksville and Mrs. Addie Bayes of Lansing, Mich.; a half-brother, Wilbur Balser of Jackson, Mich.

The body will remain at the Perkins & Reeb Funeral Home until 12:30 p. m., today (Wednesday) when it will be taken to the Farmer Church of Christ for services at 2:00 p. m. The Rev. Glen Cameron of Bryan will officiate. Burial will be in the Farmer Cemetery.



KISABETH

William Kisabeth, son of Philip and Elizabeth Kisabeth, was born in Seneca County, Ohio, December 3d, 1858.

October 22, 1882, he was united in marriage with Rosie B. Balser. At the time of his death they had entered upon the fiftieth year of their wedded life. This union was blest with seven children: Earl of Plymouth, Mich., Mrs. Dessie Conner, Mrs. Della McDonald, Mrs. Hazel Cottrell, Bryan and Mrs. Ruth Stauffer.

Besides the widow and these seven children, he leaves twenty-two grandchildren, and one brother, John, of Fostoria, who is the only remaining member of a family of eleven.

Mr. Kisabeth was practically a lifelong member of the Lutheran church, having been baptized in infancy and confirmed in youth. When with his family he moved to this part of the state, he became a member of the Lost Creek church, and later of St. John's of Hicksville.

After a brief illness he died last Thursday morning, March 10, 1932, aged 73 years, 3 months and 7 days.

Funeral services were held in the Lutheran church, Sunday afternoon at two o'clock, the pastor of the church, Rev. J. A. Schofer, conducting the same. A quartet of the church sang two numbers and Virgil Hofmeister sang a solo. Interment at Lost Creek cemetery.

CARD OF THANKS

We take this means of extending our heartfelt thanks to all the friends and neighbors, who helped in any way and were so kind during the illness and passing of our dear husband and father.

We thank the donors of the flowers, the singers for the appropriate songs, and the pastor for his comforting address.

Mrs. William Kisabeth and family.

COMFORT

Oh, deem not they are blest alone
Whose lives a peaceful tenor keep;
The Power who pities man has shown
A blessing for the eyes that weep.

The light of smiles shall fill again
The lids that overflow with tears;
And weary hours of woe and pain
Are promises of happier years.

For God has marked each sorrowing day,
And numbered every secret tear,
And heaven's long age of bliss shall pay
For all his children suffer here.

The Twenty-Third Psalm

The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want.
He maketh me to lie down in green pastures:
He leadeth me beside the still waters.
He restoreth my soul: He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for His name's sake.
Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil:
for thou art with me: thy rod and thy staff they comfort me.
Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies:
thou anointest my head with oil:
my cup runneth over.
Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life:
and I will dwell in the house of the Lord for ever.

IN MY FATHER'S HOUSE

No, not cold beneath the grasses,
Not close-walled within the tomb;
Rather, in my Father's mansion,
Living in another room.

Living, like the one who loves me,
Like my child with cheeks abloom,
Out of sight, at desk or school-book,
Busy in another room.

Nearer than my son whom fortune
Beckons where the strange lands loom;
Just behind the hanging curtain,
Serving in another room.

Shall I doubt my Father's mercy?
Shall I think of death as doom,
Or the stepping o'er the threshold
To a bigger, brighter room?

Shall I blame my Father's wisdom?
Shall I sit enswathed in gloom,
When I know my loves are happy,
Waiting in the other room?

Gone is the soul that we have loved,
And mother is at rest—
Her work is done; she sleeps in peace
Among the Master's blest.

Her work is finished on the earth,
And her rewards are won—
Nor would we weep or shed a tear
Because her work is done;

But rather we should face the world,
As mothers always do—
With eyes upturned to face the light
Of each kind day anew.

Dedication

The Clare County Fair Board is dedicating this 1983 Centennial Fair Book to O. D. Bayes, a Clare County retired businessman who for many years has taken an active interest in the progress and welfare of his community.

Born and raised on a farm in Shepherd, MI, he came to Clare in 1927 and has spent his entire life in Clare County. Over the years he has been interested in and taken an active part in many civic affairs in the City of Clare. He has been a lifelong businessman, a baker by trade, being owner and operator of Bayes Bakery for many years. He then managed Dunlops Restaurant for a number of years after which he became owner and operator of the Town & Country Restaurant. After his "retirement" he took the position of Secretary-Treasurer of the Clare County Fair Board serving to date sixteen years.

O.D. and Jeanne now reside in Harrison and spend the winter months in Arizona.

Bill Carr of Harrison recently wrote in the Clare County Cleaver, and we feel his words say it much better than we could: "To O. D.—His generosity is exceeded only by his compassion for his fellow man and the thoughtfulness he has shown has far-reaching effects that will touch the lives of others. Bless You O. D. Bill."

THE LORD is my shepherd; I shall not want. He maketh me to lie down in green pastures: He leadeth me beside the still waters. He restoreth my soul: He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for His name's sake. Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for Thou art with me; Thy rod and Thy staff they comfort me. Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies: Thou anointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over. Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life: and I will dwell in the house of the Lord for ever.
